

Online Vassal Tournament IV

The Game:

Commands & Colors Ancients is a board game designed by Richard Borg and published by GMT Games (<http://www.gmtgames.com/>), which allows you to re-fight epic battles of the ancient world.

The Vassal Game Engine:

Vassal (<http://www.vassalengine.org/>) is a free software utility that allows you to play board games in real time over the internet. A module for playing C&CA is available from the Files section of its webpage on the Vassal website.

The Tournament:

The tournament is organized on the C&CA Vassal Players Yahoo group (<http://games.groups.yahoo.com/group/ccavassal/>). It features two phases of play. In the first phase, players are organized into groups for round-robin match play (playing both sides of a scenario against each player in their group). In the second phase, the top players are placed in a single-elimination match play championship bracket and the other players are placed in a consolation bracket. The full rules for the tournament are in the Files section of the Yahoo group.

To sign up for the tournament, you will need to join the C&CA Vassal Players group and go to the Database section where you will enter your information in a tournament player database. Registration is open until January 12, 2007.
